Dear [Bride-to-be],

Congratulations on your engagement! Your wedding and the events leading up to it will be some of the most special and important days of your life. Every little detail matters, but most importantly, the food you provide will leave a lasting impression. You'll want your guests to enjoy every part of their meals so they'll be well satiated and ready for a fun time of celebrating your impending nuptials!

This is where my catering company comes in. Loquacious Catering is not only food that is healthy, but food that speaks to you—good for the body and easy on your mind. As the chef and owner of Loquacious Catering, I grew up learning the art of food preparation from the wonderful cooks in my family who were magicians in the kitchen. I took my natural skills a step further by obtaining a respectable education in culinary arts: I graduated from the Le Cordon Bleu Chicago school of Gastronomy, Hospitality and Management. Many of our new clients come from word-of-mouth referrals from people who have been pleased with our services.

I founded Loquacious Catering not only because I love nutritious, delectable food, but because I also enjoy making life easier for busy brides-to-be as they prepare for their special days. My Chicago-based catering company provides complete food service preparation and presentation for all your wedding needs: bridal showers, bachelorette parties, rehearsal dinners, and the actual wedding reception. I understand that time is precious and wedding planning can be precarious—so we take care of all the food service details for you.

Loquacious Catering can be of great service to you. We work fantastically with small, intimate gatherings of around 150 guests, and make the food presentations personal and elegant. We also offer plenty of special, tasty vegetarian and vegan options, as well as low-fat, gluten-free, and Kosher meals—there certainly is something for everyone!

We invite you to review the culinary attractions that Loquacious Catering provides, and welcome any inquiries about our services and what we can do for your wedding planning. We work with your ideas to provide refreshing, nourishing meals for you and your guests at budget-friendly rates—as well as provide unfounded customer service, prompt delivery, and most importantly, food that speaks to you. We look forward to hearing from you!

Thank you for your time, and best wishes for this special time in your life.

Warmest regards,

Chef Aleta S. Williams
